THREW AWAY THE RACE

Jockey Murphy Lost on His Usual Grandstand Finish.

HE SHOULD BE SET DOWN

Meadows Was a Prohibitive Favorite and Would Have Won Had Not Murphy Risked and Lost His Chance-Judge Don't Care How Much Money the Talent Burns.

The criminal partiality that the Alexander Island judges have always shown Jockey Murphy was the only thing in the world yesterday that saved the boy from being ruled off the race track for the balance of his life. Through his begligence and desire to make a close finish he deliber stely threw away a race and burned up thousands of dollars of the taleut's money. He had the mount on Meadows in the fifth race on the card, which was at half a mile out of the chute. The horse was a 2 to 5 prohibitive favorite and wasrunning under a triple wrap when Free Press, who was directly in front of him, suddenly broke down and stopping to a walk caused Murphy to pull up and so lost him the race.

SHOULD HAVE TAKEN WARNING. The Times has repeatedly claimed that this very desire to make head finishes would sconer or later cause Murphy to be happened on any track in the country but just where it did, he would not have lasted ten minutes. At the Island, however, where steads of all kinds are allowed to pass unnoticed, where jockles, trainers, and bookmakers are openly seen together with the evident purpose of "jobbing" some race or other, no questions are where steals of all kinds are allowed to pass unholiced, where pickles, trainers, and bookmarkers are openly seen together with the evident purpose of 'jobbing' some race or other, no questions are asked.

The 'live and let live' motto is carried into effect with a vengeance, the only hitch being that the betting public are completely left out of the arrangement. If they want to live they have to occupy all of their time not only 'doping' the erraits skates that run for the money, but have to keep on a perpetual run seeking information as to which boy is trying and which are the lobsters.

HIS INTENTIONS WERE GOOD

It is not to be wondered at therefore, that Murphy was not punished for his careless ride on Meadows. There can hardly be any question but what he meant well enough and probably reft as badly as the next one after it was all over.

The latest of the property of the state of the second won bandity.

enough and probably felt as badly as the next one after it was all over. This, however, does not excuse him one that he would sooner or later throw away a race by this very bad habit.

The thing that made it all the worse was the leiting down of little Alford for above. the letting down of little Alford for absoluted the potential part of the pudges' stand said that the boy pulled Flushing, but when horsemen who have forgotten more about raining than the aforesaid gentleman ever knew could not see anything wrong with the ride there is large possibility that he was mistaken.

The truth of the matter is that he has been roasted so much for his incompetency that he feels he must sustain official digning. He therefore picks out some poor boy without much fulluence back of him.

Jockey Willie Ham's great horse, Ataman, won his eighth straight race yesterday. The bookies must have been crazy when they chalked up 3 to 1 against Ataman. Those who knew how good the horse was simply slaughtered him. Freddy Brew got down good and heavy and was all smiles after the race.

Vesta is a good filly and has been improving irght along. If she keeps on at the present rate she will give the best of them a tussle. Meteor will probably be cut loose to-day, and will be at a good long price.
